Marlborough, N. Y., Jan. 15 (AP)—Baby Robert Earl Linkig, born without an esophagus and still fed through a tube inserted in his stomach, can talk.

His first word, uttered several days ago to a surprised mother and father, was "Ma Ma." Then he added "Bob-Bob" to double his vocabulary. He will be eleven months old Thursday. He weighs 12 pounds, 22 ounces. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Linkig.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 15 (AP)—Governor Herbert H. Lehman has signed the Breit bill changing the date of the spring primaries from April 7 to April 2. The change was sought because April 7 is the Passover, a Jewish holiday. The measure is effective only for this year.

Ticonderoga, N. Y., Jan. 15 (AP)—The Rev. Cyril F. Stevens, Catholic priest who became bank president, was busy with his parish duties today—relieved of his role as bank president.

The priest, who recently said that he "had enough" of the bank president's job and wanted to retire, was replaced yesterday by Roy Lockwood, former president. The Rev. Mr. Stevens took Lockwood's place while the latter was ill.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 15 (AP)—A woman and her daughter were injured fatally last night when they plunged thirty feet to the ground as flames swept their top floor apartment in a three-story double brick dwelling.

They are: Mrs. Carrie Baskerville, 48, and her daughter, Rebecca, 13. They died in a hospital where they were taken by police officers.

Witnesses said the woman clung to a window sill, lost her grip and dropped to the pavement. The daughter jumped from a window on the same floor and struck the pavement in front of the home.

It is said that the political leaders at Washington are planning for a short and snappy congressional session. It is much more apt to be long and sappy.

CAPITAL NEWS

HOLLISTER STURGES, JR.

Albany, Jan. 15 (Special)—Arthur H. Wicks, of Kingston, who penned the Temporary Emergency Relief Administration measure for this state in 1934 and renewed it last year, has definite plans in his mind how the relief problem of this state should be carried out in the future.

In fact he had this all ready a year ago, but at the request of Governor Lehman moved to continue the TERA until February of this year. Now it is again necessary to have this agency for relief maintained until such time as the whole policy can be put into working order under the department of social welfare. Senator Wicks will therefore prepare an amendment to last year's bill to extend the life of TERA until January, 1937.

What the senator has been advocating is much in line with a section of the governor's program defined as a long-range permanent policy of relief. This state government, as other states and as the federal government are doing, is planning to make relief a permanent function and agency of the state just as much as the state police, state treasury, or any other single unit of government. Just who will get the credit for this is a subject for discussion. Certainly the Democrats, under their titular head, President Roosevelt, started the ball rolling. It has now gained such momentum that there is some question whether it can be stopped. The answer is apparently "no, not altogether" for these plans would be indicative of such a response. However, as soon as the depression has ended as far as unemployment are concerned, and when business takes up the slack, there will be a tapering off of relief workers.

Year For Harmony
Because of red tape involved in shifting the agency of TERA into the department of social welfare it will take nearly a year to harmonize the several ends of these two organizations and make a neat adjustment.

Governor Lehman has advocated it this year. Senator Wicks advocated it last year, and next year it should become effective. It is held by the Kingston senator that with such a permanent organization unemployment resulting from future depressions will be coped with in better time and greater efficiency and that the social welfare department in prosperous times will take care of the few who are unemployed regardless of business activity as found out in recent surveys of the nation.

Today one hears a great deal about the so-called Wicks Act, named for the senator from the 29th district. It is believed that the new measure which changes the present act into social welfare's jurisdiction will also bear the name of Wicks.

Under the new provisions there will be certain minor changes but the operating basis is essentially the same as TERA.

The new sergeant-at-arms in the assembly is a Princeton graduate of the class of 1924. His name is George Gordon Fisher, and he hails from Westchester county. Right now he is getting on to the ropes of politics, and he may run for the assembly himself in a year or two. He is a young man, especially young to be a sergeant-at-arms. As a rule these positions are held by elderly men about to retire. Mr. Fisher was graduated cum laude.

The Buckley anti-crime measures ran into senatorial snags at yesterday's session. There will be an opportunity for them to be aired on January 28 when a public hearing by the joint committees on codes and judiciary of senate and assembly hear complaints.

Governor Lehman yesterday afternoon expressed his willingness that the crime measures be put off for a while until the public gets a chance to be heard on them. He says he just wants them made as airtight as possible. He also stated that as yet he has had not criticism of his budget recommendations. Observers here maintain that it will not be changed by the Republicans, although they will make an issue or two over the continued emergency taxes. But they will not offer any substantial substitute. It is reported.

Many old lamps are finding their way from attics and cellars today, says Florence E. Wright of the New York State College of Home Economics, chairman of a committee to select old lamps for an exhibit on proper lighting to be shown at the college during Farm and Home Week, February 10 to 15. The lamps for this part of the exhibit are selected from those sent for an "old-lamps" contest.

Legislature Given 2 Newspaper Bills

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 15 (AP)—The New York state legislature had before it today two proposals designed to give newspaper reporters the right to refuse to divulge the source of confidential information.

Assemblyman Charles H. Breitbart, Brooklyn Democrat, introduced a bill in the Assembly yesterday to carry out this proposal. Senator John J. McNaboe, New York Democrat, submitted a similar one in the Senate soon after the 1935 legislature opened.

Both proposals came after Martin Mooney, reporter on a New York city newspaper, was held in contempt of court, fined and sentenced to jail because he refused to tell a grand jury the source of information upon which he based a series of articles on gangsters and racketeering.

Other bills before the legislators today called for:
Periodical inspection of motor vehicles as to brakes, horns and steering apparatus. ($30,000 appropriation).
Granting to confectionery stores licenses to sell beer at retail for consumption off the premises.

The examination of operators of buses carrying seven or more passengers.
One day of rest in seven for hotel employees.
Equal rights of women with men in respect to jury service.

Imposition of a tax of two cents a gallon the refining of crude or petroleum oil.

Making it a misdemeanor for relief administrators to require applicants to disclose their political affiliations.
Barring collection agencies from furnishing legal services or taking assignments of claims in bankruptcy proceedings.

It is acknowledged by all who have been there that Hawaii is one of the few places on earth where the actual more than justifies the descriptions. It has the subtle charm of a foreign country. POLITICS at Random DEMOCRATIC hesitation about the "constitutional" issue clearly has become the focal point of current politics. The "question on every tongue" is whether Mr. Roosevelt will concede that this "new deal" has come squarely against constitutional barriers, and will ask that they be removed by constitutional amendment.

Absence of any open discussion of the subject at the Jackson Day dinner turned that gathering of Democrats into something resembling the mythical performance of "Hamlet" with Hamlet left out.

In the "we and three-way" conversations around the tables there was abundant talk about the constitution. In the lobbies of congress, on either subject is mentioned as often. Nothing which has happened to the Roosevelt administration—not even the death of NRA—has stirred larger "new deal" circles like the supreme court's sweeping invalidation of AAA.

There is a very good reason why none of this talk does not come into the open. This is a campaign year, and the political ramifications of the "constitutional" issue are many and serious.

Political Dangers

FROM the standpoint of practical politics, the real danger of an amendment does not lie in the objection that three-quarters of the states are required to ratify a constitutional change. The immediate objective of the Democrat is to win the election. For that purpose, only a simple majority of the electoral college is needed. In other words, if the party advocates an amendment, and such advocacy is approved by enough states to make up a mere electoral majority, then the party can win.

Should it win in that manner and on that issue, it could turn afterward to the question of completing redemption of its campaign pledge. This may sound strange, but it is the way party politics works.

There is another rub, however, which would be real and immediate if the party declared for an amendment. Before any amendment can be submitted to the states, it must be approved by a two-thirds majority in both senate and house.

In view of the overwhelming Democratic control in congress, a test hardly could be conceived there in advance of the campaign, and on in line since AAA was introduced it will more "new deal" politics than anything else. There are those who believe the combined strength of the Democrats might be hard to defeat at the polls.

All of these considerations help to explain why Mr. Roosevelt hesitates.

Whatever his private sentiment—and no one has undertaken to say authoritatively how far that he really favors an amendment—he obviously does not intend to put himself into an impossible situation, politically, at the very outset of the campaign.

Only Hints From F. D. R.
It is entirely conceivable that this is not fully realized by some who are asking that the administration commit itself immediately to a constitutional amendment.

That Mr. Roosevelt himself realizes it is indicated by the caution with which he is approaching the subject. Many hint of a predisposition to constitutional change can be read into his utterances, but there has been nothing resembling a direct declaration.

The question of congressional approval is sufficiently large to merit serious and careful thought. What about a party majority character, in the campaign, if the congressional hurdle can be overcome?

There may depend on developments yet to come. Revival of NRA would certainly gain, including some organized labor, preparing for an amendment. Consider other groups seem to be preparing to fill

Radio Amateurs Open 10-Meter Band After Long Experiments

West Hartford, Conn.—Consistent radio communication on a wavelength held useless by the commercial experts has again been achieved through the persistent efforts of amateur radio operators.

The ten-meter band, for many years one of the frontiers of radio, has at last succumbed to the efforts of those unrewarded experimenters. During the summer and autumn months of 1935, worldwide communication at all hours and under all sorts of conditions was established by amateurs using this wavelength, according to American Radio Relay League headquarters here. It is now in regular use by several hundred stations.

Conquering great distances by radio, utilizing wavelengths declared useless by more academic authorities, has been the habit of radio amateurs since they first spanned the Atlantic with a wave of 110 meters in the latter part of 1923. But for many years the region around ten-meters had stubbornly resisted all efforts to utilize it for consistent communication purposes. True, contacts of short duration had been established, but the commercial communication companies discarded it as a medium of communication. Not so the amateur. Many intrepid experimenters have consistently been at work, developing new equipment and spending many hours testing, trying to get results.

And their faithful work has been rewarded.

The past year has seen many startling records made on this wavelength, according to the American Radio Relay League, national amateur organization. The ambition of all radio amateurs, that of communicating with all continents, has been achieved by several dozen amateurs, working only on ten-meters or 25 megacycles. A girl in England talked with all continents in six hours, a splendid record on any wavelength; and several men have utilized voice in their all-continent work, a very notable achievement because of the greater difficulty in establishing contact.

The band has shown many interesting characteristics, according to the reports received. Transoceanic communication, with strong signals, has been established using powers of 10 watts, comparable to that of a Christmas tree lamp. Directive antennas, similar to those used by the transoceanic telephone services but ingeniously simple of construction, have been one of the major weapons in this latest victory over distance. New receiver design, using newly developed principles that will later become important aids to improved broadcast reception, has helped immeasurably.

Highland Education Board Studies Budget

Highland, Jan. 14.—On request of the president, Mrs. J. D. Rose, the secretary of the trustees of the Centralized system of schools, A. W. Lent had prepared an outline of the budget with the expenditures for the first half of the school year, and reported at the meeting held Friday evening at the school house. The cost of the new sewer had exceeded the amount that was expected to cost and it was thought advisable to see what items had come under the amount allotted to them. The old sewer was left as it was and is used as a drain. In digging the new sewer it was necessary to cross land of Arthur B. Merrill and a great deal of rock was encountered. All this came under the supervision of William H. Maynard, chairman of the grounds committee. In transportation and census there is no change in the money set aside for those items. In athletics, medical supervision and grounds there is apt to be less money needed or more. It was found that the new iron stairs and the new passage way connecting building has not cost as much as anticipated, and therefore the surplus could be diverted for other uses.

Milo F. Winchester, supervisor of agriculture, appeared before the board asking permission to again take a group of five boys to the Farm and Home Week in Ithaca on February 12. This lasts several days and the students take active part in judging and the work of the future farmers of America banquet in New York state. This is done at an expense of $75 and the boys have been a credit to their instructors and the school in the past. Mr. Winchester would like to have three of the five boys to go. There were three or four from which to choose the remaining two. He also asked permission for a meeting of 4-H Club members on Monday to select the team to attend and take part in the horticulture meeting held in Kingston. These requests were granted on a motion made by Philip T. Schantz.

Miss Elizabeth Young, girls' athletic coach, asked permission to appear before the February meeting with a report of her work. On a motion of Philip T. Schantz and seconded by William H. Maynard, Miss Young is to be present at the next meeting and aside from her verbal report is asked to have a written report to be placed on file. The trustees felt they should be informed of the corrective work that is being done and that the coaches should make a report twice a year. Mr. Lent remarked that applications for positions were already coming in for next year. The board does not consider any changes before another month.

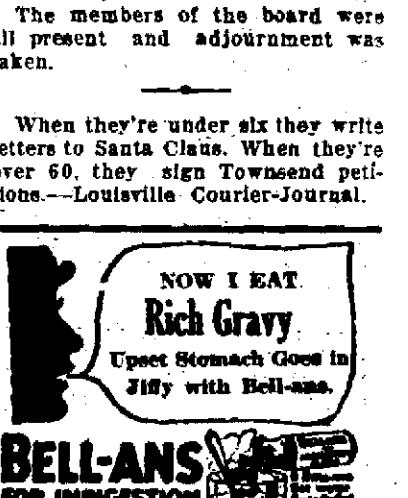

The principal, Herbert Campbell, said that Willard Burke, athletic coach for the boys, had asked permission to have dancing following the basketball games on Friday nights since the attendance had fallen off and it was thought that dancing would be an incentive for more to attend. Permission was granted to have dancing after the next basketball game to try out an increase in attendance. Mr. Campbell reported $15.20 turned over to the school treasurer as the amount received from the sale of tickets for the opera held in December. This amount was over the necessary expenses. It was reported that coal was needed for the classroom held in the Cummings' building and that two leaks had occurred over one of the front entrances. Through Mr. Campbell and Miss Ruth Goldsmith for the Senior Washington Club, permission was asked to hold a Valentine dance to help the treasury of the club. It was stated that the proprietor of a hall at Lloyd had offered his hall free. After much discussion, in which it was asked if the dance was by invitation, Mr. Campbell said he would not allow one given that was not by invitation and that lists of guests were inspected first and that such parties were chaperoned. The board did not approve of the hall mentioned and suggested others and preferred that the dances be given as social affairs and not as a means to raise money. John J. Gaffney, Mr. Campbell reported, had been watching the bus entrances to the grounds and suggested that buses enter the north side of the grounds and leave by the south. This was talked over and as it had been tried out in the past it had been found that the south side had the best entrance, so no change was advised. To change the present system would mean changing the entrances to the school grounds.

Mr. Richards asked as to who selected the children to be sent for dental work. At a previous meeting it was decided that the school nurses should be the one to pick out the pupils who needed the work done and as there was no fund this year set aside the work could not be as general. The school nurses had not been notified as to the decision made and thus had no authority to act. It was then voted that the clerk write the dentist to the effect that the school nurse would decide upon the children who needed the teeth attended to and send them to office. The clerk said there were three bills needing attention and he suggested the one of the electrician, W. R. Seaman have 50 per cent of the entire amount paid providing Mr. Seaman present a certificate from the underwriters that the work was satisfactory.

The members of the board were all present and adjournment was taken.

Homeseekers' Series Of Shares Matured

The 43rd series of monthly installment shares issued by the Home-Seekers' Co-Operative Savings & Loan Association has matured, that is, accumulated to the value of $200 per share. The regular semi-annual dividend for the period ending December 31, 1935, completed the maturity by increasing the value of the shares to $200.16 each. Of this amount $143 had been paid by the shareholder in monthly installments of $1 each. The balance, $57.16, was the dividends apportioned to the shares from the profits of the association, and amounts of approximately 40 per cent of the shareholder's payments.

At maturity the 43rd series comprised 911 1/2 shares, totalling $184,455.44. Some of the shares were pledged as collateral for mortgage loans, and the holders are now enjoying the satisfaction of owning debt free homes that have been paid for in monthly installments, the same as rent. The majority of the shares were free, held for saving and accumulating money. The holders of these shares are receiving checks from the association, or certificates for income shares on which no further payments are required and dividends are paid every six months. The checks delivered range all the way from $200 to $10,000; the recipients include the laborer or clerk who saved $1 a month and the professional man who saved $50.

A new series of monthly installment shares is opened every three months. The next opens February 3.

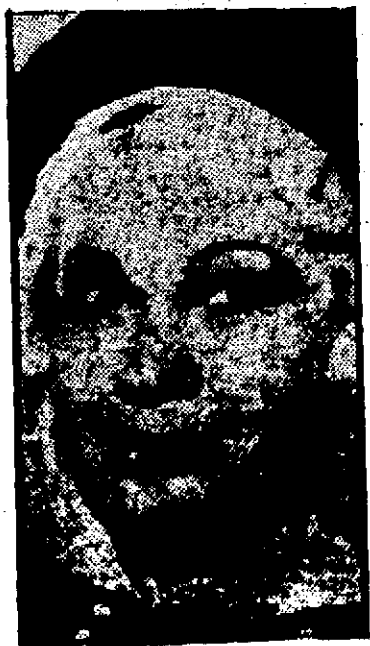

Parent-Teacher Associations

Port Ewen

The Parent-Teacher Association observed Father's Night Friday evening. A goodly number of parents and friends were present. Mrs. John Reynolds, president of the unit, presided at the meeting which was opened by singing "America the Beautiful" and saluting the flag. After a short business session the meeting was turned over to Mrs. S. P. Tinney, the chairman of the program committee, who explained the topic for the year and what had already been discussed. The program for the year is "Our Children Out of School." The topics already discussed have been reading, games and toys, adult programs and movies. The subject for January was "Hobbies." The guest speaker for the evening, Ralph Johnson, superintendent of schools, was then introduced by Mrs. Tinney and by Mr. Lewis, principal of School No. 13.

Mr. Johnson spoke very informally and interestingly on some of the hobbies one might pursue and his own pet hobby of stamp collecting, showing the right and wrong way of collecting stamps and books, how these hobbies aid in learning geography and history. At the end of his talk Mr. Johnson rendered a solo. The evening closed with a pleasant social hour, coffee, sandwiches and cake being served.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has issued a tabulation of the work done by cities and towns during Fire Prevention Week, which was observed last October. The summary definitely shows that fire can be controlled when public and official interest is at a sufficient peak. Between September 23 and October 13, for example, which includes the week and the periods immediately preceding and following it, 87 cities had a weekly fire loss of less than $25. A large number of cities had no fire loss at all. Throughout the entire nation, the summary observes, "a very definite improvement in the intensiveness and effectiveness of the campaign was noticeable."

COUNTY Christian Endeavor NEWS

County Banquet Program

The Rev. John Heidenreich has announced that he has secured Dr. Stephen James of the Albany Reformed Church as speaker for the County Union annual banquet to be held in the Wurts Street Baptist Church on Friday evening, January 31, at 6:30 o'clock. The Ladies' Aid Society of the church will serve a roast lamb dinner to the Endeavorers. Tickets are now on sale and may be procured from the society presidents or officers of the county union.

Report of Union Meeting

The County Christian Endeavor Union met on Monday evening at the home of the Rev. John Heidenreich and plans were made for the next two months' activities. The regional directors are going to organize into a group similar to the old "Flying Squadron," and travel among the various societies, leading meetings and promoting the work of Christian Endeavor. A "Leap Year Party" will be held on Saturday, February 29 in the Congregational Church in Kingston. The committee in charge of this event is: Edna Holmstrom, Norma Greene, Henry Elmhurst; definite plans will be announced later. It was also decided that the union should hold an Easter vesper service and a committee consisting of Carolyn Ryder, Nelson Lewis, Dora Pratt and Lee Powell was appointed to make preparations for this service.

C. E. Birthday, February 2

The 55th birthday of the Christian Endeavor movement occurs on Sunday, February 2, and should be appropriately observed by the county societies. Some suggestions for endeavors on this day are: Print a history of the movement and of your own society in the church morning or evening; have Endeavorers sit together at church services; give talk on purpose of Christian Endeavor before the Sunday Schools; present a short dramatization of the founding of Christian Endeavor, or its international and inter-racial character; or the activities of your society; organize the members under the lookout committee to make visitation campaign on this Sunday afternoon, calling on young people not connected with the society, urging their attendance.

Gardiner Jr. C. E. Reports

The Gardiner Junior Christian Endeavor is reported to be booming along in great shape. This society uses a rather novel type of meeting.

The first half being the regular Sunday church service, including the children's sermon, and then the youngsters are excused from the rest of the church program and gather by themselves for their own C. E. service. The senior organization is not very large in Gardiner due largely to the scarcity of young people of the proper age.

County President Visits Comforter

The Ulster County Union president, Miss Mary Langwick, spoke to a group of 30 members of the Comforter C. E. Society at their regular prayer meeting Sunday, January 12. Miss Langwick gave an interesting address on the work of the County Union and its plans for the future. Sunday evening, January 24, at 7:15 o'clock, the Comforters will have the Rev. A. W. Baker of their guest and speaker. All are cordially invited to attend the services of the Comforter Endeavorers.

Albany Avenue Baptist Unit

Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, the monthly business meeting and social will be held at the church. Sunday, February 2, will be the candle-light service in the church for the installation of newly elected officers. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Jan. 15—The clam chowder sale which the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church was to hold Friday morning has been postponed until a later date.

Epopus Council 42, Sons and Daughters of Liberty, will meet tonight in its council room, Pythian Hall. Deputy State Councilor Caroline Gindrat will be present to install the officers for the ensuing year. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Palen spent Saturday in New York city.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church will hold a chicken supper in the church hall at 5:30 Thursday evening, January 23. The menu is as follows: Creamed chicken on biscuit, mashed potatoes, peas, cabbage salad, tea biscuit, apple pie, coffee or tea.

Mrs. N. Freer, Mrs. E. Fetter, Mrs. F. Sillan and Mrs. D. Kiefer spent Tuesday with R. F. Schoonmaker, who entertained at a quilling party.

Mrs. Bertha Denniston and son, have returned to their home on North Chestnut street from a trip to Melbourne Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Irene Compton entertained Miss Bertha Herrig, May and Mrs. Vincent Connolly of Kingston and Miss Alisa Reid of New Palts at dinner recently.

Frank J. McCaul, Department of Commerce Census Enumerator, for New Palts, expects to finish up his territory here this week.

The Rev. Gerret Wallischleger's sermon subject at the morning service in the Reformed Church Sunday, January 12, was: "Speaking—Listening." And the Rev. Alfred H. Coons preached from the subject: "Inclusive Faith" in the Methodist Church the same morning. On Tuesday, January 21 the congregational supper and annual church night conference will be held in the Methodist Church parlors. Services have been resumed at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. The Bishop of New York is acting as head of the parish and sends a clergyman every Sunday to conduct the service. Holy Communion is to be observed the first Sunday in the month at 11 o'clock in the morning, and morning prayer will be held on all other Sunday mornings, at the same hour.

Seal Committee Checks on Returns

The past week has been a busy one at Seal Sale Headquarters, 74 John street, Kingston.

An effort is being made to account for all seals sent out. A complete card index is kept of every name to which seals were sent with the number enclosed or returned. In this way the committee knows exactly who has responded and it will be necessary to send out follow up letters to all those who have failed to acknowledge in any way their seal sale letter.

Of course this is believed an oversight that will be remedied as soon as the matter is in this way called to their attention.

Most encouraging is the eagerness to help which is evident among those who have given thus far—the desire to share even at a sacrifice in helping those less fortunate.

Early replies save time, energy and money. If unable to pay for all the seals, send in a contribution for any amount and so show your approval of the very necessary work the Tuberculosis Committee is doing in Ulster county.

Comforter Missionary Meeting

The Women's Missionary Society of the Church of the Comforter will hold its monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon, January 16, at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Saul Smith, 260 Smith avenue. All the members are requested to bring their needles, thread, and thimbles with them. Refreshments will be served.

Scientists say that elephants once roamed over what is now the state of Georgia. That was, of course, before the founding of the Republican party.

Attorney Connolly Appraisal Clerk

Vincent G. Connolly of 65 West O'Reilly street has received the appointment as clerk of the Commissioners of Appraisal for the New York City Board of Water Supply at their Fair street office in this city. He succeeds Frederick G. Stang, who was recently appointed clerk of the Board of Supervisors. Mr. Connolly was graduated from Columbia Law School last June and was admitted to the practice of law last September. He was formerly in the law offices of Cashin & Ewig, and until now law clerk in the office of Lloyd R. LeFevre. For the past month he has been clerk for the trustees of the waiving depositors of the National Ulster County Bank & Trust Company.

THE SEA GIVES UP ITS DEAD AFTER STORM

Here are the first bodies to be recovered after the coastal typhoon, torn, was stranded in pieces off the coast of Norfolk, Va., on December 31 with a loss of 34 lives. The Coast Guard was helpless in the driving storm, although during rescue attempts were made. (Associated Press Photo)

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York, Jan. 15 (AP).—The stock market went "round and around" today and was notable, principally, for picking up further strength in oils and specialties.

At the same time numerous issues were unable to step out of the circle for either gains or losses of more than small fractions. The milling movement was fast at the start, many blocks of several thousand shares changing hands. The volume dwindled later under quite extensive realizing which was well absorbed in most cases. The usual quota of "new highs" brightened the speculative and investment scene.

Active advances up to a point or more were recorded by Seaboard Oil, Houston Oil, Texas Pacific Coal & Oil, Superior Oil, Socony, Barnard, Westinghouse, Westinghouse Air Brake, U. S. Leather "A", Newport Industries, Gillette, Pittsburgh Screw & Bolt, Celotex, Ludlum Steel, Radio, International Telephone and Union Pacific. The majority of the Utilities, rails and motors did little.

Some of the aviation stocks, including Douglas, Boeing and United Aircraft, sagged following the crash of the large air liner in Arkansas.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

Wine trimming harmonizes with a flower print.
Lana Merwin

The new printed gowns hold the spotlight in both formal and daytime wear. Novel trimming effects use contrasting banding or sometimes harmonize with the predominant color of the print. This effect is usually carried out in a two-toned scarf or flowing sash for added glamor.

Colorful prints are like a breath of spring to the winter wardrobe which at the start of the season is usually composed of more monotone and subdued colors.

The printed crepe formal gown pictured above uses a scattered flower design of wine color on a white background. Wine color banding picks out the color of the flowers making its effective trimming.

Wide rovers frame the low V back—the front is low and square with the twisted treatment of the bodice going around to fasten at the side with a huge bunch of flowers in harmonizing shades.

Smart back skirt fullness is incorporated in this gown for flowing grace and supple lines. The wine color banding at hem helps to accentuate this fullness.

While this print uses a white background with colored design—many prints show a color on color treatment that is very effective.

PATTERN 9756.

Who among us couldn't do with a new mid-season frock? Here's an answer—"Who indeed?" So here's Marian Martin's suggestion for this need. Doesn't just looking at it make you want to slip it on? A very easy wish to make come true, you know, for your fashion designer's kept simplicity uppermost, eliminating every detail that wasn't a time-saver. None of the style was sacrificed, however, and you'll find those easy-to-cut and easy-to-fit sleeves have the swing and swish of individual caplets. The skirt's pencil-like, with a single gore and knee flare. Neat darts over the bust give shapeliness and soft fullness to the bodice. Choose a bright crepe, synthetic sheer or—almost forgot!—a spring-like print. Complete. Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9756 may be ordered only in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30. Size 14 requires 3 1/2 yards of 39 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for EACH MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYLE NUMBER and SIZE of each pattern.

Send for Our New Spring Pattern Book, and take the guesswork out of planning and making your new clothes! Its many smart, practical designs will show you new ways to look your charming best, new ways to use the latest Spring fabrics, new ways to stretch your budget. Special flattering designs for stout figures. Patterns for the whole family. Price of book fifteen cents. Book and a pattern together, twenty-five cents.

Send your order to Kingston Daily Freeman, Pattern Department, 232 W. 18th Street, New York, N. Y.

the WORLD of STAMPS

Fridtjof Nansen, the Arctic explorer who has been prominent in refugee relief work since the World War, is pictured on a set of four semi-postal values just issued by Norway as an aid to international refugees. Each stamp carries a surtax of 10-ore for this purpose.

Nansen, by his polar explorations in the last decade of the nineteenth century, proved that there is a definite drift in the Arctic ice. Since the World War he has served as high commissioner of refugees for the League of Nations, and in 1923 was awarded the Nobel peace prize. His refugee activities developed what was known as "Nansen passports," which enabled refugees from one country to travel in another, although they may not have had a passport issued by the land from which they fled.

The set consists of 10-ore green, 15-ore brown, 20-ore carmine and 30-ore blue.

Four Malay Issues

New stamps for the four Federated Malay states, presented as part of a complete new issue from 1 cent to 50, follow the same color scale for design value, but have different designs.

The four states are Negri Sembilan, Pahang, Perak and Selangor. All the stamps have across the top the inscription "Malaya," while in three cases the name of the state is in English at the bottom. Selangor uses Turkish characters.

Part of the Straits Settlement, these states are British protectorates. Each has its own ruler.

The four values to appear so far are 4-cent orange, 5-cent brown, 6-cent olive green, and 40-cent lilac and carmine.

The designs, identical throughout for each set, run: Negri Sembilan, coat of arms; Pahang, sultan's portrait; Perak, sultan's portrait; Selangor, mosque. Each stamp is of the same size, but the format of the Selangor issue is oblong instead of upright.

U. S. R. Airmail Rarity

Although the flight for which the stamp was specially surcharged proved unsuccessful, a modern rarity has appeared from Russia. The adhesive was prepared for the Moscow-San Francisco flight. Of 10,000 printed, about 5,000 were sold for mail to be carried by the plane; the remainder were disposed of through various other channels.

The particular stamp is the 10c kopek airmail of the 1935 set issued in commemoration of the Cheluskhin expedition to the Arctic. The red surcharge raised the value to 1-ruble and stated the purpose for which it was issued.

Trans-Pacific Covers

Almost 130,000 first-flight covers were sent over the Pacific on the initial sailing of the China Clipper from San Francisco to Manila. Of these not all went to Manila. Quite a few were dropped off at the various stopping places, of which Honolulu received most.

Present day values of the covers from the stamp market standpoint stack up something like this: Roundtrip covers, San Francisco to Manila and back by air, including both U. S. and Philippine stamps, $4; to Manila, $1.25; from Manila, $1.50; to Honolulu, 75 cents; to Guam, 50 cents.

Of the group of covers, apparently the rarities will be those sent to Midway islands.

MT. MARION.

Mr. Marion, Jan. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. George Meyer of New Jersey spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Meyer.

The Rev. Harold Hoffman of New Brunswick, N. J., was a visitor at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Harvey Hoffman on Sunday.

On Saturday, January 11, the Mt. Marion 4-H Club held its meeting at the home of its leader, Mrs. John Frederick, with an attendance of eight. One new member, Marion Schaefer of Ruby, was welcomed into the club. A lesson on sewing was held and the girls instructed as to how to cut out and sew a slip.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Speaking of ODD JOBS-

Cry Baby

Sallie Belle Cox is an attractive girl—but she is a cry baby despite her 20-some years. Until four years ago she cried for fun, entertaining company. Now she cries for money. Sometimes her imitation is so successful that mothers will write in and berate a broadcasting company for "sticking pins in the baby to make it cry." Miss Cox cries into a pillow. That seems to be the only way she can do her imitation properly. She takes her profession as a "joke," but not the money she earns. Brown haired and slender, she was born in Parkersburg, W. Va., but dropped her southern accent for dramatic reasons. She once supervised youngsters in a Cleveland orphanage, and still assists at a New England girls' camp during the summer. She lives in New York.

MENUS OF THE DAY

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE

Conserving Heat
Oven Dinner Serving Four
Baked Potatoes, Escalloped Celery, Biscuits, Plum Jelly, Pumpkin Pecan Pie, Coffee, Milk For Children

Stuffed Veal Chops

4 rib chops 1/2 teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons 1 cup water
flour 2 tablespoons fat
1/2 teaspoon salt

Select chops cut one inch thick and have slits made to hold the stuffing. Carefully stuff chops, holding together with wood picks. Sprinkle with flour and seasonings. Fit into shallow baking pan. Add rest of ingredients. Cover and bake 1 hour in moderate oven. Baste every 20 minutes. Remove picks before serving.

Stuffing

2 tablespoons 1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 tablespoon 1/2 cup water
chopped celery 2 tablespoons fat
1 teaspoon 1/2 cup bread, crumbled chopped onion 2 tablespoons parsley
1/2 teaspoon salt

Melt fat and add celery and onion. Cook 2 minutes, add rest of ingredients, mixing with fork. When blended, stuff chops.

Pumpkin Pecan Pie

(Nearly A Meal in Itself)

1 unbaked pie shell 2 eggs, beaten
1 1/2 cups cooked pumpkin 1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons 2 cups milk
cinnamon 2 tablespoons butter
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg 1/2 cup dark brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup pecans

Mix pumpkin with spices, salt, eggs and sugar. Beat 2 minutes. Add milk and pour into pie shell. Bake 10 minutes in hot oven. Lower fire and bake 40 minutes in moderately slow oven. Mix butter, sugar and pecans and spread over top of pie. Bake 7 minutes in moderate oven. Cool and serve.

Of course, whipped cream adds color, but also calories.

Tourist travel to America's island

paradise, Hawaii, has increased more than one hundred per cent in the past two years. This is gratifying not only from the viewpoint that Europe to see the United States and its possessions, but also because of increasing curiosity on the part of Current travelers to see America.

Clincinnati—Peter R. Heim told police his home had been invaded and robbed—by a cab riding thief. The loss, Heim reported, was $1.25 taken from a purse with this note left behind:

"Sorry I had to do this, lady, but I need cab fare."

Kansas City—Bert M. Redman rode around the city with Police Sergeant Charles E. Zans and Delbert E. Bates, pointing out 103 houses he robbed since last July.

"That's about half the houses I broke into," he said, explaining he couldn't remember all of them.

"Wed in Peace"
Baldwin, Kas.—Baldwin bachelors observed "memorial services" for erstwhile members of their club who have "departed this life of single blessedness" since 1932. They said they thought it would help them to say "no" in 1936.

Stockholder for a Penny
Pierre, S. D.—The secretary of state blinked when he saw the incorporation papers for the Homestead Corporation of Deadwood, a mining company capitalized at $500,000. Stock was listed as 50,000,000 shares—at one cent each.

WOODSTOCK
Woodstock, Jan. 14.—The toboggan and sleigh slides and ski trails on Ahayo mountain are proving popular since last week's snow fall. Visitors and Woodstockers have both been enjoying the sport.

Rehearsals have started on a three-act play for the Woodstock Community Players.

Woodstockers were pleasantly surprised on Friday evening to hear Gardner Mulloy's name mentioned in a Press Radio News sports announcement, even though it related to a defeat on the tennis courts. Mr. Mulloy has been in charge of the Woodstock Country Club courts for several years and has won numerous trophies in New York and New England.

A benefit dance for the Woodstock Winter Sports Association will be held in Firemen's Hall Friday evening, January 17. Ray Randall's eight-piece orchestra will supply the music.

Taking into account the topography, climate and present distribution of plants, there are six well-defined floral areas in Canada, namely, Arctic, Northern, Eastern, Southern, Prairie and Western.

Take the case of this puzzled young man. . . . Someone he's never seen or heard of offers him a well paying job in Buenos Aires, but he rejects it.

He goes hiking and wakes up in a hospital after a lunch which—no recalls—includes some strangely bitter beer.

So it begins to dawn on him that as sure as his name is Bobby!—someone, for some reason which he is determined to discover, wants him out of the way.

What happens then is interestingly told by Agatha Christie in

Bright Colors—Easy Stitches—Makes a Charming Wall Hanging

PATTERN 5297

The old-time well—the bucket hanging there, just waiting to be embroidered in its natural setting. And what a lovely and colorful wall-hanging you'll have when finished! You can use as many bright threads as fancy dictates when you begin to "paint" the old-fashioned garden in easy-daisy, French knots, running and single stitch. And you needn't frame the panel—just line it, and hang it up.

In pattern 5297 you will find a transfer pattern of a wall hanging 15 x 20 inches; a color chart; material requirements; Illustrations of all stitches needed; directions for finishing wall hanging.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman Household Arts Dept., 252 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y.

ALLIGERVILLE

Alligerville, Jan. 14.—The many friends of Mrs. Virgil B. Cross extend their sincere sympathy to her and her family in their recent bereavement of husband and father.

Miss Virginia Smith of New York City spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith attend.

ed the funeral services of Grant Young in Kingston Wednesday afternoon.

There were several burials in the Kyserike cemetery last week. Grant Young of Kingston, Mary Southerland, daughter of the late Henry Southerland and Katherine S. Southerland of Stone Ridge, and Virgil B. Cross of Kyserike.

The funeral of Mr. Cross held at the funeral parlors in Kerhonkson, was largely attended and there were many beautiful floral tributes.

Watson Steen of Mohawk Lake is enjoying a vacation, spending a part of it with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Steen. Mrs. Steen will join him this week.

More and more as time goes on are we disposed to applaud the originator of the plan that put the Atlantic between America and Europe.

"Saved Enough to BUY THIS NEW DRESS!"

I had worn my faithful old blue crepe for the last time. It was shabby, run-down and about four years behind the styles. I needed a new dress, a nice one. . . .

But it would have been foolish to ask John for the money. So instead of shopping on my meager budget, I created my "new dress" (and by . . .)

. . . reading and shopping the advertised values in the DAILY FREEMAN. The savings I made buying this way, getting high quality at lower prices, soon bought that new dress . . .

. . . and by keeping my old shopping habits, I know I'll be able to buy others as I need them. John says he has me and the ads to thank!

17 Persons Killed In Plane Crash

our flashlights. The wings were gone, torn to pieces, the motors were there buried in the mud.

"The plane and the bodies were scattered all over the place, most of the bodies being near the motors.

"It looked to me that the plane had come down and levelled off at the treetops, then got into the trees and kept right on going as long as it could through the trees.

"I do not believe it would be possible to identify definitely more than three or four of the dead.

"There was baggage and mail scattered all over the place. The cabin of the plane was gone, just one side wall standing. Two bodies near the motors looked like they might have been pilots.

The "Southerner" was headed for Little Rock with its 14 passengers, two pilots and stewardesses in good weather and apparently was in good mechanical shape. Radio communication between the plane and its ground stations was maintained until four or five minutes before the estimated time of the crash. The last report was an "all well" sent from 3,000 feet at 7:18.

A Year Over Route.

The line began service over this particular route just a year ago Tuesday.

The plane left Newark, N. J., yesterday afternoon, bound for Los Angeles.

Gerald V. Marshall, 40, veteran pilot, with the company since 1928, and with 9,400 flying hours under his belt, was in charge of the ship. The co-pilot was Glenn Freeman, former manager of a Joplin, Mo., airport. Miss Perla Gasparini, 23, of Port Worth, stewardess, completed the crew of "The Southerner."

List of Dead

The passenger list given out by the company at Port Worth follows: Charles Altshul, 340 North Central, Glendale, Calif.

J. C. Cahn, Los Angeles.

Mrs. S. Horowitz, Mrs. B. Horowitz and Seba Horowitz, 4, all of Walcott road, Boston, Mass.

W. R. Dyess, 101 Ridgeway, Little Rock, Ark.

R. E. McNair, 314 South Balmain street, Little Rock, Ark.

Mrs. J. S. Gremillion, Knoxville, Tenn.

F. C. Hart, 630 Fifth avenue, New York, an oil man.

W. S. Hardwick, Beardstown, Illinois.

A. D. Chernus, Beardstown, Illinois.

N. Porter, Third and Lebl streets, Philadelphia.

Henry F. Flato, Jr., Laredo, Tex.

Sam Stewart, Apollo Hotel, Atlantic City, N. J.

Pilot Walter Hunter had brought the ship from Newark to Memphis, and President C. R. Smith of John W. Keogh (left), 68-year-old Chicago attorney, shot and killed his opponent in an insurance suit in a Chicago court room, then fired twice at Presiding Judge John Prytsalski (right), narrowly missing him. American Airlines at Port Worth, Tex.

"At Memphis," said Smith "Pilot Hunter reported that the airplane was in excellent flying shape and that both motors were functioning fine. At Memphis, the airplane was taken by Pilot Gerald Vaughn Marshall, Co-pilot Glenn Freeland and Stewardess Perla Gasparini.

"At Nashville, gasoline had been taken aboard and the airplane left Nashville with 410 gallons, an amount sufficient to take it to Little Rock or Dallas.

"Pilot Marshall departed from Memphis westbound at 7:03 p. m. At 7:18 he reported to Memphis by radio that he was flying at 2,000 feet, 35 miles west of Memphis and that the weather was good and visibility 15 miles.

"After 7:18 contact, no further information was received from the airplane.

When the plane was nearly an hour overdue at Little Rock and no further wireless messages had been received, the company authorized searching parties to start out from both Memphis and Little Rock.

ACCORD.

Accord, Jan. 14.—Church services at the Rochester Reformed Church Sunday, January 19. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Divine worship at 10:30 a. m. Sermon subject, "Do We Know God?"

The 4-S society will meet at the home of Charles and Edward Kelder Tuesday, January 21, for the monthly meeting.

Mrs. Ada Voight has been consigned to her home by the grip.

The Rochester Reformed Church will serve a clam chowder supper in the church basement Wednesday, January 29, at 6 p. m.

The Boy Scouts of Accord Troop were given the use of the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool in Kingston, for an hour or more Saturday afternoon. The Rev. Ben Scholten and Franklin Kelder conveyed the boys to Kingston.

Russel Mowris is spending some time with his brother, Charles, and family, at South Linia.

Mrs. Phoebe Lawrence is ill at her home with the grip. Miss Ethel Miller is assisting at the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferris Turner, Mrs. and Mrs. John Miller and Mrs. and Mrs. Leroy Kelder Sunday evening.

Patron Grange will hold an evening of games Wednesday evening, January 15, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Schoonmaker. All are invited.

Bobby Brooks spent one day recently with Mrs. Edgar Van Vliet.

Max Fuschie, the barber, has moved into the house owned by William Anderson, located next door to Anderson's vacant store.

Walter Horner is convalescing at his home after a few weeks' illness.

Friends are glad to see Edward Coddington out again after a long illness.

Byrne, J. Clifford Cole, William A. Warren, Joseph M. Fowler, J. Galen Holcomb, Austin H. Newcombe, Raymond Garraghan, Howard A. Lewis, Douw S. Meyers, Arthur Rice.

Our Growing Population.

The following births have been reported to the Board of Health:

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wilkinson of 99 Emerson street, a son, Philip, Warner, at Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Turck of 24 Court street, a son, Nicholas, at Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Everett of 261 Albany avenue, a son, Richard, Jr., at Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Aloysius J. Donnelly of 163 Hunter street, a son, Ralph, Januarius, at Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Levine of 11 Sycamore street, a son, Donald Theodore, at Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Beehler of 48 Prospect street, a daughter, Elizabeth Anne, at Kingston Hospital.

Telephone Company Lists New Rate Plan

A new schedule of reduced night rates on long distance telephone calls became effective January 15, with the introduction of a reduced person-to-person rate at 7 p. m. Beginning Sunday, January 19, the reduced night rates will be in effect all day every Sunday on both person-to-person and station-to-station calls.

Evening and night reductions ranging from 10 per cent to more than 40 per cent of the day rates have for some years been offered on station-to-station calls to most points for which the day rate is over 35 cents. This reduced rate period is now extended to include the entire day on Sundays. In other words, the reduced rates will be in effect continuously from 7 p. m. Saturday until 4:30 a. m. Monday. Until now there have been no discounts at any time on person-to-person calls—calls where a particular person or a particular extension telephone is specified. Under the new schedule where there is a discount on station-to-station calls, there will also be a discount on calls to a particular person.

These reductions from the day rates range from about 9 per cent on the shorter haul calls to 30 per cent or more on the longer haul calls. The minimum reduced person-to-person rates will be 50 cents. These reductions will also be effective all day on Sundays.

The overtime rate on person-to-person calls will be reduced proportionately and in addition, the overtime rate for conversations in excess of 10 minutes (7 minutes overtime) will be the same as the night station-to-station overtime rate.

Herbs Prepares To Serve 18 Months

Hudson, N. Y., Jan. 15 (AP).—M. William Herbs, former Hudson city treasurer, prepared today to serve a term of a year and six months to five years in Clinton State Prison at Dannemora for misappropriating municipal tax funds.

He was convicted by a county court jury here late yesterday after four hours of deliberation. County Judge John C. Trecey immediately passed sentence. Herbs' counsel said no appeal would be sought.

The former treasurer was found guilty of misappropriating $100 in taxes allegedly paid him by William Mackay. Other indictments charged shortages in his accounts amounted to $3,800.

Do You Remember?
Do you remember way back when, (say thirty-four years) You never saw your sweetheart's limbs but judged her by her ears. The kids were washed each Saturday night, their daddy cut their hair. Their suit was made from their uncle's pants, and they wore no underwear. The women padded but did not paint, nor smoke, nor drink, nor vote. The men wore boots and little stiff hats, and whiskers like a goat. Not a soul had appendicitis, nor thought of buying glands. The butcher gave his liver away, but charged you for his hands. You never needed a bank account, your beer gave 6 per cent. The hired girl got three bucks a week, and twelve bones paid the rent. You could stand each night when the work was over, with one foot on the rail. And your hip supported not a thing, except your own shirt tail!

Wife (very angry)—Good gracious! How could you think of bringing Mr. Biggin home to dinner when you know I am housecleaning? Husband—Hush, my dear. He is the only fellow I know big enough to help move the piano.

It is easy to obtain peace of mind. Just decide that the imperfections of mankind are none of your business.

Minister—Yo' husband is a member of de Ways an' Means Committee.

Negro Wife—Is he? Den he's in de right place. Dat nigger knows moah ways ob hein' mean den any otha cussed man in town.

Assisting a criminal to escape the law is a crime unless you happen to be a lawyer.

Father—I wonder where the step-ladder is? Mother—Junior had it a little while ago.

Father—Then it must be in the preserve pantry.

And if you are not too depressed, you'll remember that prosperity often has its headaches.

Second (to boxer who had just finished a round, and has both eyes closed)—You must go in and finish him this time.

Boxer—I can't see to hit him.

Second—Well, you must hit him from memory.

Mother—I want you to be somebody when you grow up.

Son—Who?

A boy never gets much comfort out of his first cigar, but he gets a lot of experience.

Colored Woman (consulting her lawyer)—Ah wants to di-vorce mah husband, John Henry.

Lawyer—What's the trouble, Opa?

Colored Woman—Dat nigger's done gone and got religion, and we ain't seen chicken on de table for three months.

It usually costs more to avenge our wrongs than it does to protect our rights.

Wife—Mr. Mills refused to recognize me today. Think, I suppose, that I am not his equal.

Husband—Ridiculous. Of course you are. Why, he's nothing but a conceited idiot.

Add Piffle Figures: The Scotchman who is still looking for the woman who pays.

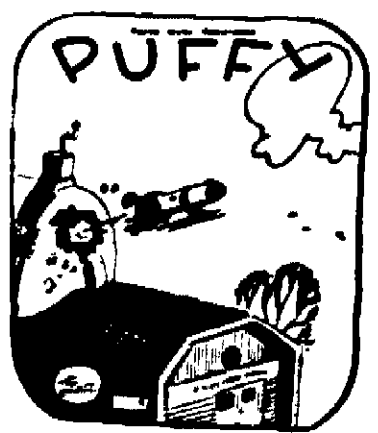

Rhodes—Did you have a very big income this year?

Buick Safety Legion Emblem

THOUSANDS of Buick automobiles throughout the country shortly will be displaying this safety emblem denoting that the driver is a member of the Buick Safety Legion and is pledged to courteous, careful driving and careful observance of local and state traffic laws. Buick owners can obtain membership in the Safety Legion by applying to their local dealers who will supply the emblem without cost.

The World

A stock of close to a thousand diamonds, worth a snug fortune, is part of the production equipment of the Dodge Division of Chrysler Corporation. The precious stones, averaging five carats in weight, are set in tools used in trimming abrasive wheels that grind engine components and other Dodge car parts in the production of which dimensions are held to fractional thousands of an inch. The grinding wheels cut the hardest steel made; but to square up the wheels, something still harder must be employed—diamonds. The stones generally come from the Kimberley mines in South Africa; the only detail in which their quality differs from that of the glittering gem in milady's engagement ring is the color—black, grey, mottled, it makes no difference in the efficiency of the tool—the stones are diamonds just the same, and they are as valuable as the workman requisitioning the tool from its keeper carries it away in a leather pouch. Hard as is the diamond, even it wears down in service, when that happens, the stone is removed from the tool, re-cut and re-set for further use.

Beginning in January, 1936, more than 6,000 service mechanics employed by Oldsmobile dealers are "going to school." At the end of six months all those of the 6,000, who have a percentage of 80 or better will be awarded a certificate entitling them to membership in the Oldsmobile Master Mechanics' Club and a club lapel pin, announced J. J. Dobbs, general service manager of Oldsmobile. Schools will be held in the dealers' place of business and supervised by the factory service organization. For each of the six months, a set of 20 questions will be answered by the 6,000 men. The questions cover details of Oldsmobile engineering and service operations that mechanics encounter daily as a part of their regular work. In addition to the club membership certificate and club pin, the factory offers twelve prizes monthly to the 12 service mechanics who obtain the highest percentage in answering the questions. Finest precision instruments obtainable and other tools and articles for the use of service mechanics make up the prizes. To stimulate interest in the course and inform the entrants of mechanics' rankings a new monthly magazine, called "The Oldsmobile Master Mechanic," is being published.

A model tire factory, one of the most modern in the world, located in Montevideo, Uruguay will begin its production March 1, according to officials of the R. F. Goodrich Company, Akron, Ohio. Goodrich is loaning technical personnel to the enterprise organized and entirely financed by a group of Uruguayan merchants, bankers and automotive leaders. This new South American plant will operate under a long-term agreement and is headed by Basil Rohr, president of Uruguayan Industrial Engineers. Three Goodrich men, W. H. Gay, the construction engineer, W. T. C. Phibbs, the plant engineer, and Charles Gardner, mechanical engineer, will supply technical information, train native personnel and generally direct the manufacturing process. Plant operations of R. F. N. S. A. Gardner has been in Montevideo since November supervising installation of production machinery, while Gay and Phibbs will stay for the South American visit January 21. R. F. N. S. A. will be housed in the first modern tire factory in Uruguay.

WILEY POST OF THE STRATOSPHERE

His Preparations Were An Obstacle-Race

(Second of a series)
By BILLY PARKER
(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

After his second world flight Wiley Post turned to stratosphere work seriously and began to assemble equipment.

He used the Winnie Mae simply because she was the only airplane he possessed, and although not admirably fitted for such specialized duties, she still was in good condition. He felt if he could demonstrate the possibilities of this type of flying with the relatively ancient Winnie Mae, it would be a fitting crowning achievement for the ship which had served him faithfully on two "round-the-world" flights.

Equipping the ship for high altitude flying, however, was not simply a matter of going out and buying necessary accessories. He found that engineers had advanced a lot of theories but actually produced nothing practical. Before Post was ready for his first test flight more than a year had elapsed, and he had used most of the money he obtained from various sources as result of his last world trip.

Constructed Suit

Wiley realized that while army and navy pilots had made flights to considerable altitudes with only a small bottle of oxygen and an oxygen mask, such flights would never be practicable over long distances due to extreme differences in pressure.

The best solution, he knew, would be to seal the entire cabin of the ship and maintain a pressure nearly that of sea level. This was not practical at the moment due to the time and expense involved. He approached the problem from the standpoint of a suit into which oxygen could be pumped and which not only would give the pilot sufficient oxygen for normal breathing, but also would maintain a body pressure comparable to that near sea level.

In designing this suit, Wiley gave aviation one of the finest contributions it has received in many years. Even though the sealed cabin will make its appearance soon in transport planes, such an arrangement would be impracticable for military pursuit planes. With the Post suit, it will be possible for a military pilot to fly just as high as his ship will take him, at no personal discomfort.

The Supercharger

If the suit should be punctured during aerial combat, and the pilot is not seriously injured, he either can fly to lower levels or use a parachute without experiencing ill effects, thanks to an arrangement worked out by Post.

While Wiley was designing and building the suit he also was having many other pieces of equipment constructed to enable the Winnie Mae to reach stratosphere heights.

Most important of these was a supercharger for the engine which would enable it to develop its sea level horsepower at greater elevations.

The plant having been designed throughout for maximum efficiency using the latest production equipment available, Goodrich officials said. "All indications point to 1936 as the greatest year that Chrysler ever has had," said J. W. Fraser, vice president of the Chrysler Sales Division of the Chrysler Corporation, in discussing the outlook for the new year. "We start 1936 in the best possible condition to handle a record business," continued Mr. Fraser. "Our dealer body is the strongest that it ever has been. In fact, I think that in personnel, financial capability, experience and enthusiasm it is the finest dealer body ever assembled. We consider ourselves very fortunate in numbering so many veterans among our dealers and distributors. A very large percentage of them came through the depression years without serious scars. The things they learned when business was slack will be invaluable to them now that it has returned to normal. No man could go through the trial by fire they had in the lean years without being a better business man for it. The men dealers that we put on last year were in every respect hand-picked. In general, they were men who had had a long and successful experience in the automotive business and who were attracted to Chrysler by our exceptional coverage in all price fields."

In order that the delegation of three British Jewish leaders, consisting of Simon Marks, Sir Herbert Samuel and Lord Bessborough, might participate in the National Conference on Palestine, originally scheduled for February 8 and 9, will be held in London on February 1 and 2 at the Hotel Wilford, Washington, D. C. It was announced by the provisional committee, headed by Dr. Stephen A. Wise, which is planning the Washington Conference.

The public, perhaps, will remember Wiley Post as the man who followed his globe-circling exploits with four futile attempts to span the longest in the stratosphere. Aviation, however, will remember him provided man with much of his early knowledge of high flying. In the take-off of one of those daring flights.

The supercharger when finished was indeed a marvel, for it enabled the motor (Wasp) of the ship to develop 450 horsepower at 50,000 feet. Without it the motor would not have delivered enough power to maintain flight, even at much lower levels.

The controllable pitch propeller, without which stratosphere flying would have been impossible, already had been developed. The old fixed pitch propeller would merely slip and spin in the lighter air of the stratosphere.

However, new problems crept in as Wiley started his test flights. He found that, due to reduced pressure, the ignition system of the engine would not function at higher levels because the electricity in the ignition cables failed to stay within the insulation of the wires.

Dropped Landing Gear

With his resourcefulness, Wiley cooperated in designing an ignition system consisting of airtight boxes around the magnetos and corresponding flexible tubing the full length of the ignition wires, into which system a mixture of oxygen and thin stratosphere air was pumped so the entire unit functioned under sea level conditions.

After Wiley had made several promising test flights, Frank Phillips of Bartlesville, Okla., who had formed a group of research engineers noted what Post was trying to accomplish and took him under his wing, from then on financing the project.

Wiley originally had planned to try for a new world altitude record for airplanes and possibly accomplished this, although it never was proved.

But he realized the limitations of the Winnie Mae and felt if he could arrange to drop the landing gear the increased speed from lessened weight and air resistance would result in performance sufficient to hang up a record for America that would hold for some time.

With that idea in mind, Phillips sent Wiley and a crew of mechanics and engineers to the plant where the ship was manufactured, and an arrangement was worked out whereby with the movement of a lever in the cockpit the landing gear would drop away.

This, of course, made a "belly landing" necessary, but the danger involved did not disturb Wiley since he knew he could obtain added performance.

Tomorrow—Flights that "Failed."

Kingston Starts 2nd Half Tonight Meeting Jewels at The Auditorium

Tonight the Cities Service team starts on their grid in the second half of the American League basketball schedule. Opposition will be furnished by the New York Jewels, who already have one victory to their credit in the second half.

Kingston hopes to get off on the right foot by winning tonight. The locals have two victories to their credit over the Jewels and bank on shattering the New Yorkers again in trim, having engaged in three games over the week-end. They won one and lost the other at Rochester and defeated Sam Seibel's Buffalo Bisons. Trimming the Buffalo club was a real pleasure to the Morgengweckers.

Morgengweck feels confident about tonight's game. Captain Carlo Husta and his men put up fine battles in their earlier upstate, especially against Buffalo, where the play was rough and fast, making the Old Maestro feel good. "I am sure we can beat the Jewels," says Morgie, "and I think we'll really go places in the second half of the American League."

Following his usual policy, Morgengweck has said nothing about a starting lineup. However, it is presumed that Lefty Kintzing and Horro Meyers will begin as forwards; Tiny Hearn will be at center, and Frank Shimek and Carlo Husta in the backcourt. For reserve strength, Morgie has Corky Stanton, popular young Schenectady star, and Bill Flanagan, the rookie from Little Falls.

Mac Kinabrunner, who replaced Barney Sedran as manager of the Jewels, likely will start Rip Gerson and Pospack up front. Shuckman and himself as guards, and Marty Begevel in the pivot position.

This is the combination that trimmed the Jersey Reds last week when the second half of the American League opened in the metropolitan district. Starting time of tonight's game is 8:45. There will be a preliminary beginning at 7:45, featuring the Kendalls against a formidable club.

Clermonts to Play Stone Ridge Thursday

The regular Thursday night schedule will be resumed at B. W. S. hall, High Falls, Thursday night. Manager Pete Bruck of the Colonial's Manor House Five of Stone Ridge has booked as opponents for the game this week the Fuller Clermonts. The Clermonts have been making a good record in the Walkill Valley League, being among the leaders and the game Thursday night should be a good contest.

The Clermont's line-up includes Myers, Munson, Van Eiten, Krom, Boyce, Short and Streeter. The Stone Ridge team includes such players as Gil Kelder, Bun Chilson, Pete Bruck, Woody Wood, Al Short, Gaddis and Van Deusen.

The main game will be at 9 o'clock, with a preliminary at 8 between the Stone Ridge Juniors and another team.

GIANTS BADLY CLAWED AS EAGLES GET THEIR REVENGE
In their last game at Epworth Hall the Eagles took revenge on the Giants for a previous defeat. The monsters were badly clawed, the final score being 62 to 36. Shultis of the Eagles was credited with 13 field goals and a total score of 27. Fatum led for the Giants with six fields.

The teams lined up: Eagles—Storms, Shultis, Craig, Pettenger, Olson; Giants—Fatum, Toffel, Renn, Young, Mazurka.

Ladies' Aid Meeting.
A short but important meeting of the Ladies' Aid and Missionary Societies of the Redeemer Lutheran Church will be held Thursday at 8:45 p. m., following the union church service.

Coming Here With New York Jewels

Here is one of the New York Jewels the Kingston Cities Service basketball team will have to watch closely at the Municipal Auditorium tonight if they want to win their first game in the second half of the American League. This forward, Gerson, is a rough and ready fellow in scrumline and has an eye that is not so bad. Rip loves to mix it and is called the "Guzzler" by Captain Husta's men, who count on stopping him in his tracks.

Chichester to Play Kingston Wildcats
Chichester won its fifth straight basketball game of the season Friday night, defeating Margaretville by a score of 31 to 26.

Zimmerman and Ocker were high scorers for Chichester, the former making four fields and three foul shots, and the latter four fields, with three fields and seven from the foul line, for a total of 13 points, led the Margaretville scorers.

Next Friday night Chichester is booked to play a team from Kingston, traveling under the name of the Wildcats. In a preliminary game the Chichester and Pine Hill girls will meet.

Tonight's Schedule Of Bowling at "Y"

The schedule of bowling for this evening at the Y. M. C. A. for games in the "Y" League is as follows:
7 p. m.—Kingston Trust Co. vs. Central Hudson No. 1.
7 p. m.—Wonderly Co. vs. Fuller No. 1.
8 p. m.—Board of Public Works vs. Home Seekers.
9 p. m.—Faculty vs. Universal Electric Co.

We understand these ski suits with their tight trouser-leg bottoms are a fine thing to keep from having ants in your pants.

Final Standings In First Half Of The Church Dartball League

The writer has been impressed on a number of occasions as he has run across enthusiasts in the game, to find out how much interest there is in the game of dart baseball, or dartball, to use the shorter term.

The dartball warriors do not receive the halo that is accorded some other branches of sport, especially those in which the box office looks up like the Eiffel tower in the not too far distance. Then, too, their games are not played in the big public halls, with roaring crowds cheering them on or trying to sink them, as the case may be.

Proof of the widespread interest in the game in this section is seen in the fact that 22 teams, representing the men of 22 churches, have just completed a round of 24 games, the first half of their winter schedule. They cover sections extending north to Saugerties, south to Fort Park and St. Henry, and from Poughkeepsie on the east to West Hurley and Woodstock on the west.

Known as the Church Dartball League, the association is divided into two sections of 11 teams each, known as the National League and the American League. In the final showdown for the first half, just finished.

Lefty Grove Says That He Will Beat Last Year

Philadelphia, Jan. 15 (AP)—Lefty Grove, Boston Red Sox mound ace, predicted today the coming season drive will find him better than last year when he topped American League's pitching for earned runs.

The number one comeback of 1935, arriving here after signing a new contract for next season, which is reported to carry a salary boost, said he's near the peak of condition even now.

"Because of the accident to my arm in 1934, I could take no chances last year, and always had to be careful," he said. "But now that I'm strong again, I'll be able to hit it up harder this year."

For the Red Sox in general, the fireball artist saw even brighter possibilities. With the purchase of Jimmy Fox, Doc Cramer and Fred McNeil from the Philadelphia Athletics, Lefty believes the Sox are "tops."

"We ought to be right in the thick of the pennant fight," he said.

Riemen Beats Slater In "Y" Billiards

Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A., Harry Riemen defeated Ben Slater in a second round match of the Kingston Billiard Tournament by a score of 100-93. Riemen had a high run of seven white balls in the first frame. By his victory Riemen advanced into the quarter-final round of the tournament.

Monday evening in a first round match of the same tournament, Johnny Whitaker defeated Gracie Lee by a score of 104-43. All matches in this tournament are based on 100 points straight billiards.

Golden Gloves Eliminations For Kingston In February

Boxing will return to Kingston this month after a long period of inactivity. The Adirondack Division of the A. A. U., seeking a suitable city to conduct Golden Gloves eliminations, has started the move to revive interest in the sport here and wants the American Legion to sponsor bouts again.

John J. Finerty, Jr., former matchmaker for the Legion bouts, has accepted an appointment to the state staff of amateur boxing inspectors, and on direction from Albany has started plans for boxing's revival and the presentation of the Golden Gloves elimination here in February.

To warm up for the big tourney, that probably will have 20 bouts or more on the program, the Legion will present several cards of scraps, the first on Friday night, January 31, featuring boxers from the Syracuse University boxing team, including Carl Sorenson.

Negotiations have not been completed with the collegiate boxers, but Benny Becker, A. A. U. official, has promised that every effort will be made to bring them to Kingston for the January show. "We want to make this affair one of the best ever promoted in Kingston," said Becker this morning.

"We want the cream of the A. A. U. crop to show in Kingston on the 31st and I'm going to make every effort to procure the best boxers I know to fight at the Auditorium," continued Ben. "The A. A. U. insists that Kingston must be represented, too, on the card, so Kid Chaplin, Kid Miller, and the other promising scrappers that live in the city will be given places on the card if they desire. We want them in the Golden Gloves elimination, too, because I think they have possibilities of doing something in this competition."

The directors of the A. A. U. in the Adirondack division regard Kingston as one of the most desirable cities upstate in which to hold the Golden Gloves tourney, not alone because boxing is one of the major sports around Ulster county, but because of the facilities the Municipal Auditorium offers.

Kingston will gain considerable prominence as a sporting community through the publicity given the Golden Gloves eliminations, and the ballroom should jibe well with the notoriety given this place as "The Convention City."

John Finerty, in his new position as one of the A. A. U. commissioners, intends to bend every effort toward putting Kingston on the map as a real boxing center and hopes to see some corking good cards presented as an overture to the big Golden Gloves feature.

Louis-Schmeling May Be Staged in Philadelphia in June
Philadelphia, Jan. 15 (AP)—The lure of a national convention crowd—and its free-spending reputation—has tempted Mike Jacobs toward bringing his Joe Louis-Max Schmeling heavyweight fight here in June.

Jacobs is coming here a week from today to discuss the suggestion, the bout be staged for the Democratic National Convention crowd. Conferees will include Julian Black, one of the Brown brothers' managers; Joe Jacobs, who pilots Schmeling; Mayor S. Davis Wilson, city Democratic chairman John B. Kelly; former state athletic commission chairman Frank Weiner, and Dr. Milton F. D'Eliscu.

The Democratic convention opens June 23. Two fight dates suggested are June 22 and June 29.

Weiner reached Jacobs in Chicago yesterday and arranged for the conference.

Kelly was reported to have spoken to Postmaster General James A. Farley in an effort to get the national party chairman's support.

Yankees' Infield Causes Most of Joe McCarthy's Worries

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—The Yankees' infield causes most of Joe McCarthy's worries as he prepares for the 1936 American League season.

Joe would like to pull off a deal or two before the club starts south next month, but a $500,000 demand for Buddy Myer, who is by no means a youngster, and a high price tag on Pinky Higgins make it appear unlikely that he will succeed.

Myer, who led the league in batting for Washington last season, is the player Joe really wants, but not at $500,000, the price set by Clark Griffith.

The need for an able second baseman who can last through the season was emphasized when McCarthy, who arrived yesterday to start the preparations rolling, said he expected to start Tony Lazzeri on the key-stone sack again.

Tony can be expected to do well for a couple of months, Joe admitted, but about mid-season he begins to weaken. The available reserves are Don Heffner and Jack Saltzgar, who haven't shown yet that they can fill the bill.

Then there's the question of Shortstop Frank Crosetti's ailing knee. Crosetti was put out of action by an injury last season and the Yanks were put into a hole. He underwent a knee operation, and reports he is in good condition.

First base, where Lou Gehrig is apparently a fixture, and third seen to be the least of McCarthy's problems even if he doesn't get Higgins from the Athletics.

Red Rolfe has been doing so well that the manager refused to show interest in Freddy Lindstrom, recently released by the Cubs. If the Higgins deal goes through Rolfe may be tried at second, although Joe is doubtful about his success in that berth.

In the outfield Ben Chapman in center and George Selkirk in right are considered figures and young Joe Di Maggio, brilliant coast league rookie, is slated to play left field.

The battery department doesn't worry McCarthy, with Bill Dickey behind the plate and Lefty Gomez, Charley Ruffing, Johnny Brogan, Monte Pearson, Johnny Murphy and Jimmy De Shong doing the tossing. The club's strength there and hopes for strong comebacks after "slump seasons" by Gehrig, Gomez, Chapman and Dickey, make McCarthy predict again:

"The team that beats the Yankees will win the pennant."

Boxing Class to Organize Tonight

The boxing class to be held at the Y. M. C. A. every Wednesday evening will organize this evening at a meeting called for 6 o'clock. All who have signed up for the class are asked to be present. There will be no practice. The meeting will be held in the physical director's office at the "Y."

Osborne Announces Gift of Practice Ski Slope at Phoenicia

Announcement of the gift to the Conservation Department of a parcel of land near Phoenicia to be used as a practice ski slope and for the holding of Slalom ski races by the heirs of Jay H. Simpson, and to be known as the Jay H. Simpson Memorial Ski Slope, was made by Lithgow Osborne, Conservation Commissioner, today in speaking before the members of the Kingston Rotary Club at their weekly meeting. In making the announcement, Commissioner Osborne said: "We in the Conservation Department are very proud of this gift of land because Jay H. Simpson was part of the time, having served as a forest ranger from 1915 to 1919."

"Mr. Simpson's heirs, in making this gift to the state, hope to aid their native Catskills in realizing on a new source of wealth—namely, the winter sports enthusiast. The development of this slope will round out the winter sports facilities in the Phoenicia area and make that section a mecca for enthusiasts from the Metropolitan and Capital District regions in years to come."

The land was given to the state under the provisions of Section 54 of the Conservation Law. The section provides for the acceptance by the department of gifts of land for park and recreation purposes in the forest preserve counties, and further provides that such lands shall not be subject to the limitations of Section 7, Article VII, of the Constitution.

The Commissioner told his hearers that the development of the slope was going forward rapidly under the direction of officials from that department and the work is being done by CCC forces from the camp at Margaretville. The area was practically cut clean for cordwood a short time ago so that conditioning the slope involves only the removal of stumps, brush, large rocks and some rough grading. The department is also erecting about midway on the slope, a typical Adirondack lean-to or open camp with fire place for the convenience of the public.

The slope, which has a northerly exposure, is located at the mouth of Woodland valley about a mile west of Phoenicia, and is close to the New York Central tracks and the main state highway from Kingston to Oneonta—Route 28. It is also adjacent to the site of a proposed ski jump which the Phoenicia Ski Club proposes to develop in the near future.

Jay H. Simpson was one of the pioneers in the Catskill blue stone industry, and when this industry was at its height in the latter eighteen hundreds, owned vast tracts of land and operated several quarries in the Phoenicia section.

"The people of the state of New York and the Conservation Department are grateful to Mr. Simpson's heirs for this gift," declared Commissioner Osborne.

The Commissioner devoted the remainder of his speech to the advantages of winter fun in New York state. He declared that Kingston, and vicinity, was peculiarly fortunate in regards to location and facilities for winter sports, particularly in view of the fact that the excellent and popular ski trails of Phoenicia and Pine Hill were only a few miles away. Bear Mountain and Palisades Inter-State Park only a short drive from Kingston, and the various sections of Taconic State Park just across the river from them. He also recounted the work of the newly created Bureau of State Publicity in its efforts to popularize winter sports throughout the state.

"If that is honest budget making, I don't know what an honest budget is," he asserted.

Wright estimated that of the $100,000,000 paid into the state treasury in the form of gasoline taxes and motor vehicle fees, only $12,700,000 is to be used for the state highway system under the governor's program.

As proof that it has qualities all its own, it makes its owner a tidy living as an actor in Hollywood. Unusual elasticity of facial muscles allows such contortions, Mahoney explains. Storm Signals Hoisted In State Legislature be undertaken by a joint committee composed of the four legislative leaders, two in each party, and by four citizens appointed by himself.

"We got the impression," Senator Fearon said, "that the governor thought his own plan to look into relief was better than ours; as a matter of fact, I think he is probably right in taking the position that he cannot under the constitution push such a measure as ours or his own, until the budget is out of the way."

The Republican leaders pointed out that the governor "dances" in method, but apparently not in principle.

Outside Attacks.
From outside the legislature, attacks on the governor's budget and tax program came from two sources. J. Mack Young, president of the State Automobile Association, said the group opposes the imposition of the emergency two cent gasoline tax.

"The governor, on his own showing, does not need the emergency tax for highway purposes," Mack said. "The original two cent tax would not the state, after returns to the counties are made, approximately $22,000,000."

Both Mack and Thomas E. Wright, executive secretary of the State Construction council, opposed vigorously diversion of motorists' money from highway improvement.

Wright said the governor has "temerity" to include in his $61,000,000 highway appropriation an unneeded but previously appropriated amount of $27,000,000 from last summer.

"If that is honest budget making, I don't know what an honest budget is," he asserted.

Wright estimated that of the $100,000,000 paid into the state treasury in the form of gasoline taxes and motor vehicle fees, only $12,700,000 is to be used for the state highway system under the governor's program.
